

Module 5: Minerals

Getting Started: Minerals in the Bathroom

Introduction

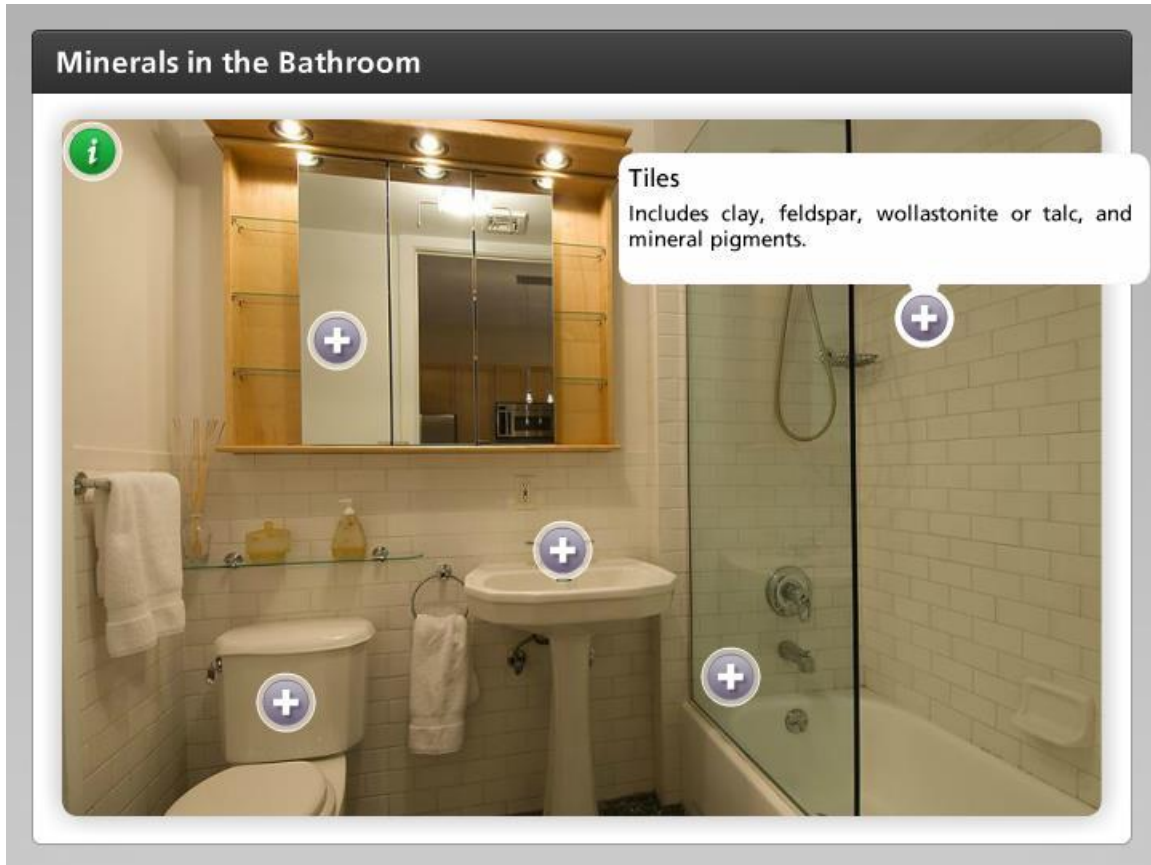

What minerals do you encounter every day? Minerals are everywhere, even in your toothpaste. Click on each of the dots to learn more about the minerals that are used in the construction of certain parts of your bathroom.

Module 5: Minerals

Getting Started: Minerals in the Bathroom

Tiles

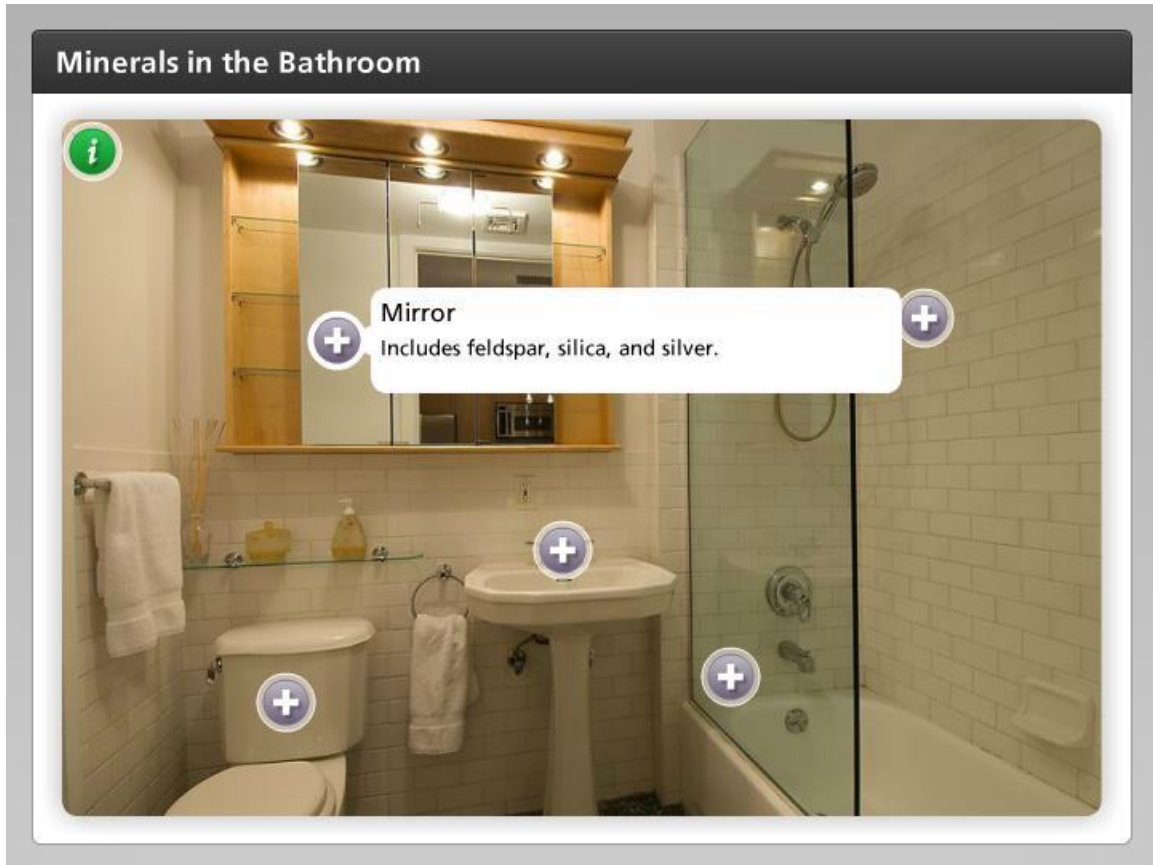

Includes clay, feldspar, wollastonite or talc, and mineral pigments.

Module 5: Minerals

Getting Started: Minerals in the Bathroom

Mirror

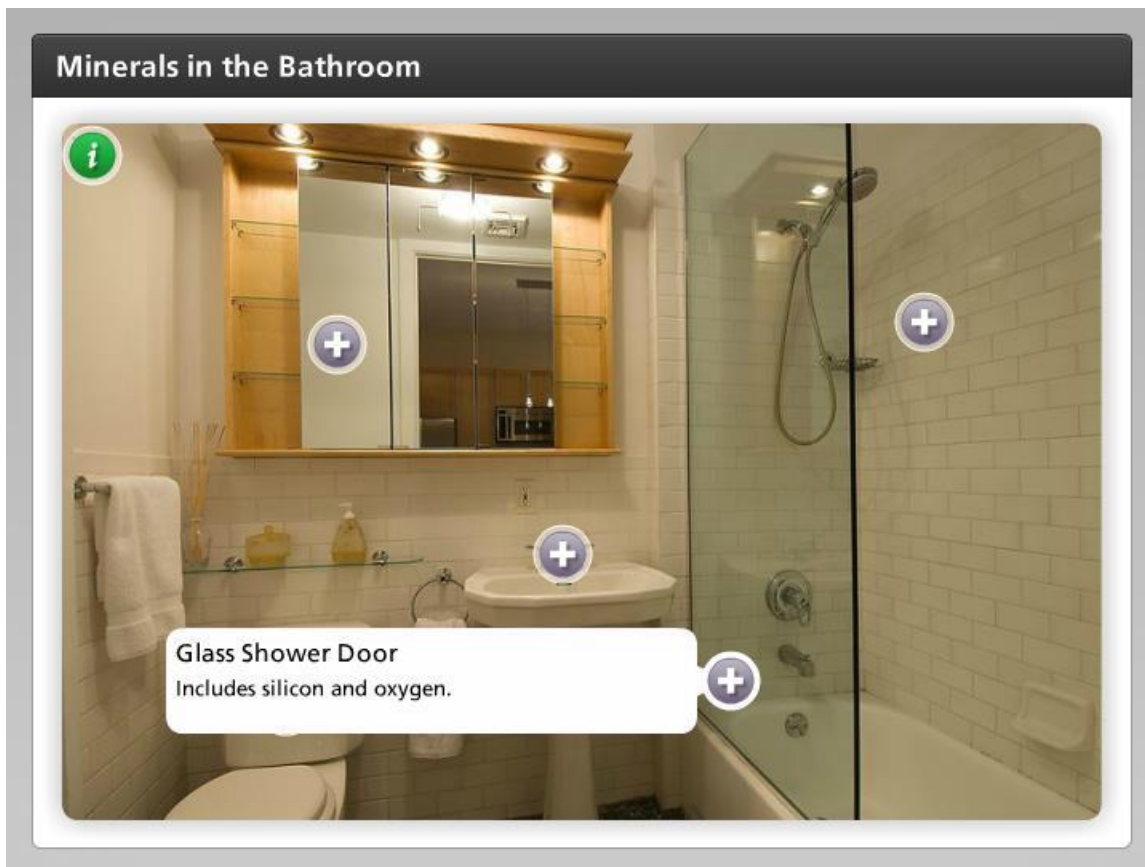

Includes feldspar, silica, and silver.

Module 5: Minerals

Getting Started: Minerals in the Bathroom

Glass Shower Door

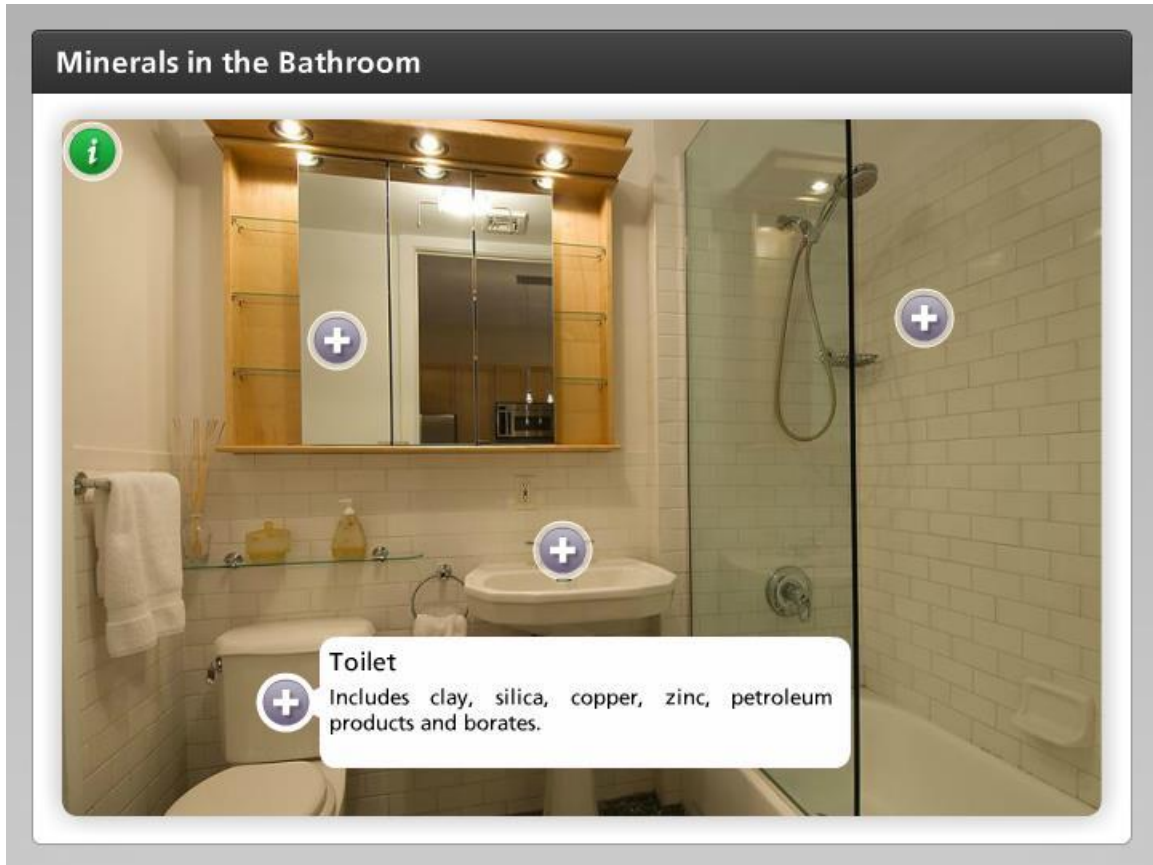

Includes silicon and oxygen.

Module 5: Minerals

Getting Started: Minerals in the Bathroom

Toilet

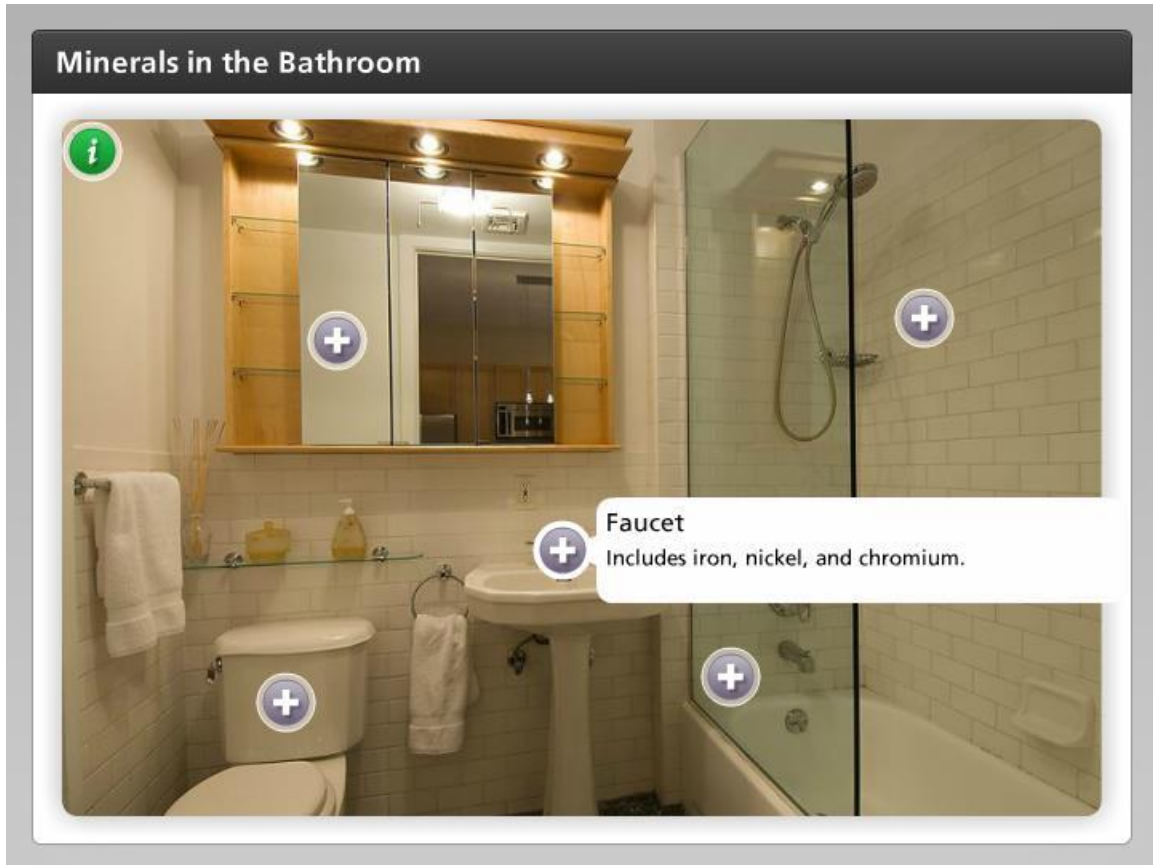

Includes clay, silica, copper, zinc, petroleum products and borates.

Module 5: Minerals

Getting Started: Minerals in the Bathroom

Faucet

Includes iron, nickel, and chromium.