

Module 7: Survival
Topic 4 Content: Cause and Effect

Introduction

Cause and Effect

Introduction

In this interactivity, use the previous and next buttons to explore the CAUSES and EFFECTS found in Chapters Five and Six of Lord of the Flies.

CAUSE: The fire is allowed to go out.

CAUSE: The rules and structure of the meetings are lost.

CAUSE: Jack claims there is still a beast on the island.

CAUSE: The twins Sam and Eric fall asleep and they do not see a parachutist drift...

CAUSE: Jack becomes more powerful and menacing.

CAUSE: There is an air battle.

In this interactivity, use the previous and next buttons to explore the CAUSES and EFFECTS found in Chapters Five and Six of Lord of the Flies.

Module 7: Survival
Topic 4 Content: Cause and Effect

CAUSE: The fire is allowed to go out.

Cause and Effect

Introduction

CAUSE: The fire is allowed to go out.

EFFECT: The stranded boys have no hope for rescue from the ship that passed by.

CAUSE: The rules and structure of the meetings are lost.

CAUSE: Jack claims there is still a beast on the island.

CAUSE: The twins Sam and Eric fall asleep and they do not see a parachutist drift...

CAUSE: Jack becomes more powerful and menacing

EFFECT: The stranded boys have no hope for rescue from the ship that passed by.

Module 7: Survival
Topic 4 Content: Cause and Effect

CAUSE: The rules and structure of the meetings are lost.

Cause and Effect

CAUSE: The rules and structure of the meetings are lost.

EFFECT: The meetings are unproductive.

A photograph showing a person's hands holding a large, white, textured shell, possibly a nautilus, against a blue background. The shell has a complex, spiral pattern and is held in a way that shows its intricate structure. The person is wearing an orange garment.

EFFECT: The meetings are unproductive.

Module 7: Survival
Topic 4 Content: Cause and Effect

CAUSE: Jack claims there is still a beast on the island.

Cause and Effect

CAUSE: Jack claims there is still a beast on the island.

EFFECT: Fear permeates through the "littl'uns."

EFFECT: Fear permeates through the "littl'uns."

Module 7: Survival
Topic 4 Content: Cause and Effect

CAUSE: The twins Sam and Eric fall asleep and they do not see a parachutist drift from the sky.

Cause and Effect

CAUSE: Jack claims there is still a beast on the island.

CAUSE: The twins Sam and Eric fall asleep and they do not see a parachutist drift...

EFFECT: Because the boys fell asleep, they do not see the aerial battle that takes place over the island. The dead parachutist lands on the island and the boys think that the beastie is responsible for his death.

CAUSE: Jack becomes more powerful and menacing.

CAUSE: There is an air battle.

EFFECT: Because the boys fell asleep, they do not see the aerial battle that takes place over the island. The dead parachutist lands on the island and the boys think that the beastie is responsible for his death.

Module 7: Survival
Topic 4 Content: Cause and Effect

CAUSE: Jack becomes more powerful and menacing.

Cause and Effect

CAUSE: The rules and structure of the meetings are lost.

CAUSE: Jack claims there is still a beast on the island.

CAUSE: The twins Sam and Eric fall asleep and they do not see a parachutist drif...

CAUSE: Jack becomes more powerful and menacing.

EFFECT: Ralph loses control and status with the other boys.

CAUSE: There is an air battle.

EFFECT: Ralph loses control and status with the other boys.

Module 7: Survival
Topic 4 Content: Cause and Effect

CAUSE: There is an air battle.

Cause and Effect

CAUSE: The rules and structure of the meetings are lost.

CAUSE: Jack claims there is still a beast on the island.

CAUSE: The twins Sam and Eric fall asleep and they do not see a parachutist drift...

CAUSE: Jack becomes more powerful and menacing.

CAUSE: There is an air battle.

EFFECT: The audience is reminded that there is a war taking place outside of the island. A similar conflict exists with civilization and savagery.

EFFECT: The audience is reminded that there is a war taking place outside of the island. A similar conflict exists with civilization and savagery.