Module 3: Exploring Good, Evil, and Noble Sacrifice
Module Assessment: Anglo-Saxon and Medieval Movie Trailer Rubric

	20 Points	15 Points	10 Points	5 Points	0 Points
Digital Components	Various forms of media are integrated into the trailer and the choice of media heavily enriches the overall movie trailer.	The video uses multiple forms of media and the choice of media is often appropriate for the movie trailer.	The video uses two forms of media, but they are poorly integrated into the movie trailer.	The video uses at least one form of media, but it is poorly integrated into the movie trailer.	The movie trailer is static and does not integrate any forms of digital media.
Content	The movie trailer includes at least five different pieces of information related to the characteristics or literary devices used in the work that is being digitized.	The movie trailer includes at least four different pieces of information related to the characteristics or literary devices used in the work that is being digitized.	The movie trailer includes at least three different pieces of information related to the characteristics or literary devices used in the work that is being digitized.	The movie trailer includes at least one to two different pieces of information related to the characteristics or literary devices used in the work that is being digitized.	The movie trailer does not include any information related to the characteristics or literary devices used in the work that is being digitized.
Time	The length of the movie trailer meets the minimum requirement of two minutes.				The length of the movie trailer does not meet the minimum requirement of two minutes.
Appeal and Creativity	The movie trailer tells a dynamic and creative story that is engaging, entertaining, and compelling to an audience.	The movie trailer tells a creative story that is very interesting to an audience.	The movie trailer tells a simple story that is somewhat interesting to an audience.	The movie trailer is understandable, but it does not tell a story. It is minimally interesting to an audience.	The movie trailer is difficult to understand. It does not hold the audience's attention.
Works Cited	A Works Cited document is submitted and it is properly formatted.		A Works Cited document is submitted, but it is not properly formatted.		A Works Cited document is not submitted.