

Module 8: Change and Its Impact

Topic 2 Content: Analysis of "The Soldier"

Introduction

Analysis of "The Soldier"

Introduction

War poetry of the early 20th century varied in tone from patriotic to disillusioned. Rupert Brooke's poem "The Soldier" focuses not so much on war itself but on the homeland of a fallen soldier. This poem can inspire readers who are fellow soldiers and console loved ones of the fallen. In this interactivity, click each of the questions to learn more about "The Soldier" by Rupert Brooke.

What is the speaker of the poem suggesting in the first three lines?

How does the speaker feel about his homeland?

According to the second stanza, what is heaven like to the speaker?

War poetry of the early 20th century varied in tone from patriotic to disillusioned. Rupert Brooke's poem "The Soldier" focuses not so much on war itself but on the homeland of a fallen soldier. This poem can inspire readers who are fellow soldiers and console loved ones of the fallen. In this interactivity, click each of the questions to learn more about "The Soldier" by Rupert Brooke.

Module 8: Change and Its Impact

Topic 2 Content: Analysis of "The Soldier"

What is the speaker of the poem suggesting in the first three lines?

Analysis of "The Soldier"

Introduction

What is the speaker of the poem suggesting in the first three lines?

The speaker conveys that if he dies while fighting in foreign lands, then a piece of England will forever be at his burial spot.

How does the speaker feel about his homeland?

According to the second stanza, what is heaven like to the speaker?

The speaker conveys that if he dies while fighting in foreign lands, then a piece of England will forever be at his burial spot.

Module 8: Change and Its Impact

Topic 2 Content: Analysis of "The Soldier"

How does the speaker feel about his homeland?

Analysis of "The Soldier"

Introduction

What is the speaker of the poem suggesting in the first three lines?

How does the speaker feel about his homeland?

The speaker is deeply patriotic. The idyllic and lovely images he presents reveal how much he loves his homeland.

According to the second stanza, what is heaven like to the speaker?

The speaker is deeply patriotic. The idyllic and lovely images he presents reveal how much he loves his homeland.

Module 8: Change and Its Impact

Topic 2 Content: Analysis of "The Soldier"

According to the second stanza, what is heaven like to the speaker?

Analysis of "The Soldier"

Introduction

What is the speaker of the poem suggesting in the first three lines?

How does the speaker feel about his homeland?

According to the second stanza, what is heaven like to the speaker?

Heaven is very much like the England that the speaker describes in the first stanza. He suggests that after death, he will get to come back to "an English heaven."

Heaven is very much like the England that the speaker describes in the first stanza. He suggests that after death, he will get to come back to "an English heaven."