

Module 2: Short Stories

Topic 1 Content: Conflicts in Literature Notes

Introduction

Conflicts in Literature

Internal Conflicts

External Conflicts

Introduction

In literature, a problem which must be resolved is called conflict. Conflicts can be internal or external. In this interactivity, click on each of the tabs to learn more about internal and external conflicts.

In literature, a problem which must be resolved is called conflict. Conflicts can be internal or external. In this interactivity, click on each of the tabs to learn more about internal and external conflicts.

Module 2: Short Stories

Topic 1 Content: Conflicts in Literature Notes

Internal Conflicts

Conflicts in Literature

Internal Conflicts

Internal Conflicts

External Conflicts

Internal Conflicts

An internal conflict is one where a character struggles with himself or herself. In other words, the conflict occurs in the character's mind.

An internal conflict is one where a character struggles with himself or herself. In other words, the conflict occurs in the character's mind.

Module 2: Short Stories

Topic 1 Content: Conflicts in Literature Notes

External Conflicts

Conflicts in Literature

Internal Conflicts

External Conflicts

An external conflict is easier to recognize. This kind of conflict involves outside opposing forces. The opposing forces can be other people or nature.

An external conflict is easier to recognize. This kind of conflict involves outside opposing forces. The opposing forces can be other people or nature.